Pallas Coin (Utility Token) use case

1. IPTV interaction use token (the first of its kind)
2. Membership use for exclusive features on partnered apps
3. Enter custom created shops related to helping student debt or other custom made shops for our partners
4. Access into simulation apps geared toward education and trading sims
5. Social status use within the blockchain node community for member perks.

Proof Of Information

Our custom made protocol is constructed as a tier level system, wherein a block being created is a divisible information structure with assigned workloads between 5 archetypes of nodes. These 5 types of “Architects” receive payment based on their tier placement and the work assigned to that tier. Such examples of node work include block generation, data filing, data verification ETC. Protocol is designed for fair gain opportunity!

Assets

1. U.S. patent filing for the world first “Social Finance Network” which contains over 150 pages of proprietary documentation for new blockchain technology, over 15 detailed schematics for the development of new blockchain related services and protocol relating to cryptocurrencies and use tokens and detailed documentation for the implementation of Artificial Intelligence monitoring blockchain products and services.

2. We are also nearing the completion of our second patent. This patent is roughly 200 pages and contains over 40 schematics relating to the creation of a new conversion system for use tokens and cryptocurrency across multiple exchanges. It also contains information regarding a protocol for such conversions. Expect more information on this as we progress.
